call for papers

Papers should address one or more of the three Conference streams.

1. Innovate

Facilitating creative and innovative community development activities in response to identified community need.

2. Collaborate

Working in partnership internally and externally across sectors to deliver community outcomes and services.

3. Participate

Engaging with the community to shape our future.

What are we looking for?

Our key focus for the 2018 Conference is to achieve a valuable and beneficial balance of papers from the rural/remote, regional and metropolitan areas which focuses on our three streams.

Your paper may cover one of the many key services that your Local Government delivers, for example; early years, youth, community safety, accessibility and inclusion, cultural diversity, homelessness, age-friendly, health and wellbeing, partnership service attraction, libraries, ranger services.
